Medicare Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress completed action Monday on a politically charged old age medical care bill and edged closer to possible adjournment this week. The Senate voted 74-11 for a limited program of federal-state grants to help the indigent and near-indigent and sent it to the White House where presidential approval is regarded as certain. The measure is a far cry from the broad Social Security approach which the Democratic platform calls for and which was fought for in the Senate by John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee. He was beaten by almost solid Republican opposition combined with Southern Democrats.

This Senate action left two major obstacles to early adjournment — and release of the lawmakers for full-scale campaigning. One is another political hot potato, a minimum wage bill. The other is supplemental foreign aid funds, less explosive politically, but controversial enough so it could brake the adjournment wheels for a time.

Senate-House conferees met in closed session again to see if they could break a deadlock over minimum wage legislation. Each chamber has passed a minimum wage bill. The Senate's would hike the $1 hourly minimum to $1.25 in two years and add coverage for about five million workers. The House would make it $1.15 and cover only about a million more.

The Senate backed President Eisenhower Monday by voting to restore 190 million of the 35 million dollars Congress cut last week from the foreign aid money bill. By a vote of 55-32 it included the 190 million for foreign aid in a $305,042,731 catch-all appropriations measure. It then passed the bill 67-21.

Whether the 190 million for foreign aid will stay in the bill is a question.

The bill now goes back to the House which has shown less inclination than the Senate to go along with administration views on what is needed for foreign aid.

Barbara Powers Expects U. S. To Help Her Husband

NEW YORK (AP) — Trembling and in tears, Barbara Powers said Monday she was not satisfied with efforts of the U.S. government on behalf of her husband, convicted U2 spy pilot Francis Gary Powers.

The pilot's wife made her statement to newsmen shortly after she had collapsed in a faint upon arriving here by plane from Paris.

She was carried inside the airport's health building by policemen.

When she recovered she told newsmen her husband "would give anything he had ever earned in his life or ever would earn to be permitted to return to me and to his mother and father."

Powers, 30, was sentenced to 10 years by a Soviet military court on espionage charges.

Mrs. Powers was sobbing when she started down the ramp from the plane. She started to fall once but caught herself and two guards gripped her arms. But she had gone less than 100 feet when she suddenly put her hand to her forehead and dropped to the pavement before police could catch her.

Officers rushed her inside the building where she quickly recovered and asked her bearers to let her down. She steadied herself against a wall to regain her composure than talked inside the public health section.

Fifteen minutes later she walked into the press room to speaking to the assembled newsmen. Her eyes rimmed with red, the attractive brunette told reporters: "I've done all I can do."

She said she made a clemency plea to the Presidium of the Soviet Union on her husband's behalf but had not received a reply or an indication one would be forthcoming.

Asked if she expected to make any further efforts to help her husband, she answered: "I have said many, many times, I am not a diplomat and I am not familiar with diplomatic channels." She added: "I think our government should be able to do something."

Then she said she was not completely satisfied with what had been done by the government for her husband so far.

Ferryboat, Ship Collide; 13 Injured

NEW YORK (AP) — A cargo vessel, loaded with railway freight cars, and a ferryboat, carrying hundreds of commuters, collided in a Hudson River fog Monday off lower Manhattan.

Thirteen persons were injured, one woman passenger seriously. Others were shaken up but declined medical aid.

The ferryboat Chatham, making a crossing from Hoboken, N.J., to Manhattan, and the Seatrain Georgia, inbound from Savannah, Ga., crashed at 9:15 a.m.

The impact ripped a vertical hole 60 feet long in the ferry, from her upper deck at a point below the water line. The hole was 20 feet across at its widest point.

The Seatrain Georgia apparently was not damaged. Witnesses said the ferry passengers did not panic, but that many rushed for life preservers.

Not Damaged

Tugboats nudged the ferryboat into a nearby pier for the discharge of passengers and vehicles, and removal of the injured. Then the ferry, still taking water, was pushed to another pier for pumping operations.

The collision was one of two of similar nature in the fog-shrouded harbor. The Staten Island-Brooklyn ferryboat St. George and the Spanish freighter Monte Urquola brushed in the lower bay but nobody was reported injured and damage was slight.

The Seatrain Georgia captain, Arvin W. Callaway of New Orleans, La., said his ship sounded warning whistles, reserved engines and dropped an anchor in its effort to avert the collision.

Roy O. Wanvig, 64, of New York, captain of the Chatham, told newsmen he heard no warning signals until he saw the ship about 800 feet away.

Bomb Kills Premier Of Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Time bombs planted in the Jordan government offices killed Premier Hazza Majali and 10 other persons Monday. Forty-one were wounded. Radio Amman said there were two bombs.

The first wrecked Majali's office and buried the 44-year-old premier under tons of debris. The second was so powerful that it shattered windows in a large area around the two-story building, which also housed the foreign ministry and the government press office.

Listed among the dead besides the premier were: Zuhaidin Hammoud, undersecretary for foreign affairs; Assem Taijo, director of the tourism department; Sheikh Jamal Majli, chieftain of Kark village; an unidentified member of the Majali family and a Palestine refugee child. Among those injured was a young girl.

Neutral Course
The Majali government had generally steered a neutralist course in the East-West cold war but it had inherited intra-Arab feuds to contend with.

Majali was regarded in Cairo as a leader of Arab forces opposed to President Nasser of the United Arab Republic. And the bombing consequently sent tremors through the volatile Mideast at a time when Jordan and the U.A.R. appeared to be settling long-standing differences.

King Hussein announced Majali's death over Amman radio. Then he called an emergency meeting of the Cabinet and announced the appointment of Bahjat el Talhouli, chief of the royal Cabinet, as the new premier.

Although it was not officially announced, Jordan was, in effect, put in a state of emergency.

An immediate curfew was clamped on the Amman area and armored cars with troops in battle dress patrolled the streets of the capital to forestall any coup against the state.

Airports Closed
Airports were closed. Amman radio suspended its scheduled programs and carried on only readings from the Koran.

Majali took office May 6, 1959 and immediately proclaimed Jordan would keep clear of any foreign political or military pact except for the Arab League collective security treaty.

Jordan and the U.A.R. long have been at odds over Nasser's Arab policies. Their latest dispute broke out at last week's Arab foreign ministers' meeting in Lebanon.

Jordan opposed the U.A.R. plan for a Palestine state-in-exile and creation of a Palestinian refugee army. Most of the exiles live in Jordan and in the U.A.R.-administered Gaza Strip.

Nasser's influence is strong among the Arab refugees, including those crowding the banks of the Jordan River in western Jordan. Jordan apparently feared Nasser's influence, which was held responsible in Jordan for the anti-Baghdad pact riots in 1956.

The Arab foreign ministers finally reached a compromise to create a special committee for studying the question of creating an Arab state of Palestine.

Bunche Quits Congo With Deep Regrets

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo, (AP) — U. N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, fresh from a visit to eight U.S. airmen and two Canadians who "had the hell beat out of them," said Monday he believes he has never been any place where misunderstanding is so deep as in the Congo.

Bunche is giving up his job as chief of the U.N. Congo operation after two turbulent months and flying back to his regular assignment in New York. His successor here is to be Rajeshwar Dayal of India.

"I leave with mixed emotions," the Negro executive told a news conference. "I am very happy to go back home and to my regular beat. But I am sorry to leave this team."

Cooperation
"In all my international experience I have never experienced anything so inspiring in the way of international cooperation. There has never been anything like it in history."

"Moreover, I regret to leave because I don't think there has ever been an operation with more demand on every individual for patience, restraint and endurance. Nowhere have international teams responded better than here."

"We have been in a pretty turbulent atmosphere. Suspicion runs deep everywhere here. That is the heritage of the immediate past, of colonialism."

"The country is full of rumors. Rumors lead to fear and fear very often erupts in panic."

"Such was the highly regrettable, tragic, outrageous incident at Stanleyville airport," in which eight American Globemaster crewmen and two Canadian technicians were battered Saturday by Congolese soldiers and civilians who professed to believe they were Belgians.

Ferrying in Canadian signal equipment, the unarmed men were attacked by a frenzied mob, estimated at 10,000 persons, swinging rifles and clubs to the chant of "Kill! Kill!"

Bunche denied Congolese allegations that Belgian soldiers are hiding in U.N. uniforms. He acknowledged there had been a black market in U.N. arm bands, which provoked bitter charges against the U.N. by Premier Patrice Lumumba's government.

Man's Release
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Judge Frederic G. Weir of Allegheny County on Monday refused to release a man jailed under a new court rule for failure to pay court costs.

Defense Atty. Robert X. Medonis claimed the new court rule is unconstitutional. Judge Weir refused to release the defendant, William R. Patton, 36, of Pittsburgh, but set an insolvency hearing for Wednesday.

That is the theme on which Castro and his followers are expected to base future actions in attempting to make the Castro revolution the pattern for all Latin America.

"It was Cuba who won in San Jose because Cuba raised there the rebellious voice of our fatherland," said the semi-official radio Rebelde. "False representatives of Latin American countries sold out to the corrupting force of Yankee gold."

The semi-official newspaper Revolution termed the OAS "that force of Pan-Americanism manufactured in the United States."

On the home front there were reports that the number of armed defectors in the hills of Las Villas province is growing steadily despite military cordons around the area. They are estimated now to total between 400 and 500 men.

The bands are not strong enough seriously to threaten the Castro regime, but they are drawing the attention of a substantial number of his troops and militiamen.

Towns Evacuated
QUEBEC (AP) — The Gaspé Peninsula town of St. Gabriel de Rapin was evacuated Monday as a giant forest fire raged within 1½ miles of it. As the community's 56 families moved out, firemen from nearby Grande Rivière hosed down houses in an effort to save them.

"He'll be OK in a couple of weeks," Morton told a reporter. "As long as it had to happen, it's better for it to happen now than after the campaign gets rolling. We'll have to cancel only a few things now."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, sent flowers and the following telegram to Nixon in the hospital: "Sorry to hear of your illness. Best wishes for a speedy recovery."

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — The prosecution rested its murder case against Elmo Smith, 40-year-old Bridgeport handyman, Monday after reading to the court Smith's alleged confession and another statement Smith allegedly signed.

The session was adjourned early after the half hour reading by Montgomery County Asst. Dist. Atty. Vincent A. Cirillo and the three women and nine men of the jury were taken to Adams County prison to examine the car in which the state says Smith raped and murdered Maryann Mitchell last Dec. 26.

State Urged To Speed Shortway Construction

HARRISBURG (AP) — A delegation from the Keystone Shortway Assn. met with Gov. David L. Lawrence and Highways Secretary Park H. Martin Monday to urge greater speed on construction of the 300-mile cross-state superhighway from Stroudsburg to Sharon.

"We feel they should have as much ready for construction as possible should more funds become available," explained Sen. Z. H. Confair (R-Lycoming), association president.

Confair said the group complimented the two state officials for the interest and attention given the five-year-old project recently.

Both Lawrence and Martin have said the Shortway will be given high priority in state road-building plans.

Attending with Confair were C. E. Noyes, Williamsport, executive director; Fred B. Hughes, Clearfield; Gordon Ward, Sharon; Paul R. Eyerly, Bloomsburg, and Martin D. Cohn, Hazleton.

They were with Lawrence and Martin about 45 minutes.

Martin, they said, generally reaffirmed plans he made public recently to let about 11 million dollars in construction in the next year and to move a 21-mile section between White Deer and Route 54 in the Danville-Bloomsburg area into final design next year.

Lawrence also made a pitch for support of a one-cent-a-gal increase in the state gasoline tax to provide more funds for roads.

"We didn't argue with the man," Confair reported.

Confair is co-sponsor of a bill introduced in the Senate June 20 proposing the State Highway and Bridge Authority be authorized to borrow up to 500 million dollars to speed construction of federal interstate highways, including the Shortway.

The measure was referred to the Senate Committee on Legislation the same day. The legislature, in recess since June, is scheduled to return Sept. 12.

French Airliner Crash Kills 63
DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — An Air France airliner with 63 people aboard struggled vainly for a dawn landing Monday and floundered into the sea only a mile from shore.

"We must presume that all aboard were killed," an Air France spokesman said after hours of search had failed to find a survivor. The passengers included 10 children.

The four-engine Super Constellation, en route from Paris to Abidjan, had made two passes at Dakar-Yoff Field and was turning for its third attempt when it vanished behind a lowering rain shower.

Stunned radar operators tracked the final, swift plunge of the plane into Atlantic waters 60 feet deep.

Hours after the crash, 20 battered bodies had bobbed to the surface from the broken fuselage, resting on the sandy bottom. The broken bodies indicated most had died in the crash itself. Naval boats, helicopters and tiny African craft with triangular sails patrolled the waters in hopes of finding survivors. A plane circled overhead.

Senegal Premier Mamadou Dia flew over the scene Monday morning.

New Racial Violence In Jacksonville
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Racial violence flared again Monday in strife-torn Jacksonville while a white sympathizer of the Negro integration cause was knocked down in a jail bullpen.

Richard F. Parker, 25-year-old Florida State University student who has been aiding Negroes in lunch counter sit-in demonstrations, was taken to a hospital after being struck by Merrill Imus, 21, a Jacksonville construction worker. His jaw was broken.

Imus, who says he is part Cherokee Indian, told newsmen "I asked Parker if he was the leader of those Negroes and then hit him after he cursed and swung at me."

Knee Injury Results In Infection

WASHINGTON (AP) — Infection in a knee injury received on a campaign trip sent Vice President Richard M. Nixon to a hospital Monday. He is expected to remain there approximately two weeks.

The Republican presidential nominee's crowded vote-seeking program was disrupted by his layoff. An aide said Nixon will be able to return to a day-to-day campaign schedule around Sept. 12 but all public dates between now and then are out.

In announcing that Nixon entered Walter Reed Hospital Monday afternoon, his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said the vice president has no fever and "continues to be in excellent physical condition."

No Malignancy
In response to a question, Klein said there is no malignancy in the infected injury.

Nixon injured his left knee on Aug. 17 at Greensboro, N.C., when he hit it against an automobile door. Since then he has been bothered by pain and he told reporters Monday that the flesh was cut and a lump had formed under the skin.

Klein said it was decided to put Nixon in the hospital after tests Monday showed an infection described by doctors as hemolytic staphylococcus aureus—an organism that attacks red blood cells.

Hospital treatment will consist largely of administration of antibiotic drugs and keeping Nixon off his feet so the knee can heal.

"This is a precautionary measure to avoid any permanent damage to his knee," Klein told newsmen.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, promptly wired regrets. His message to Nixon said: "I hope your stay in the hospital will be of short duration and that you will make a speedy and effective recovery. I look forward to seeing you on the campaign trail."

President's Regrets
White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said President Eisenhower was advised of Nixon's trouble in advance of the public announcement.

"The President regrets Mr. Nixon's ailment very much," Hagerty said.

At this stage there appeared little likelihood of Nixon being incapacitated to the point where he could not serve as the candidate. But if this should happen, the Republican National Committee would be called on to select a new nominee, with each state having the same number of votes as in the national convention.

Numerous speaking appearances were wiped out by Nixon's hospitalization.

While appearing on a TV program last Thursday, Nixon disclosed he had hurt his knee by striking it on a car door. On the same program when asked if he was in good shape, he replied "I am in fair shape."

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, Republican national chairman, said Nixon had complained of soreness in the knee at a party Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) gave for President Eisenhower and members of the Cabinet last week.

"He'll be OK in a couple of weeks," Morton told a reporter. "As long as it had to happen, it's better for it to happen now than after the campaign gets rolling. We'll have to cancel only a few things now."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, sent flowers and the following telegram to Nixon in the hospital: "Sorry to hear of your illness. Best wishes for a speedy recovery."

Law To Aid Veterans' Widows

SOME veterans' widows receiving dependency and indemnity compensation may be entitled to receive higher payments as the result of a recently enacted law. A. G. Palmer, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Wilkes-Barre, said.

The amount of dependency and indemnity compensation is now based in part on the rank of the deceased veteran at the time of his separation from service.

The new law, known as Public Law 86-492, allows the widow to receive payments based on a higher rank, provided the veteran satisfactorily held the higher rank for at least six months and was holding it within 120 days of the date of his death or separation from the service.

The VA lacks the necessary information to identify these eligible widows. Widows whose husbands at one time held a rank higher than their rank at separation, under the above conditions, should contact the nearest VA office.

Religious Hour To Launch 98th Wayne Fair Sept. 11

HONESDALE, Pa. — Persons of all religious faiths will gather at the Wayne County Fair Grounds Sunday, Sept. 11 for an inspirational hour which will launch the 98th annual Wayne County Fair.

The program will include a string choir, vocal solos, a male quartet and a choral group. It is being arranged by Miss Viola Sonner, a Honesdale music teacher.

The Rev. Stanley C. Lange, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Honesdale, and Father McCann of St. John's Roman Catholic Church of Honesdale, will also participate.

"This inspirational hour goes hand in hand with the agricultural theme of the Wayne County Fair," said Dr. William J. Perkins, fair president. "It will give regional residents an opportunity to express their thanks to God for the richness of the harvest and for the fullness of our life in these United States."

There will be no admission charge for the afternoon program. Free parking facilities will be available.

Miss Lois Williams and Miss Phyllis Hattler will be soloists with the 11-piece string choir. Members of the group, all students of Miss Sonner, will be Jane Ammerman, Betty Bodie, Rebecca Bryant, Susan Hensley, Cynthia Robinson, Betty Utter, Margaret Orth, Miss Peggy Tolley and Mrs. Gloria Stinnard will be accompanists.

Vocal Soloists

Judy Jenkins and Mrs. Virginia Stabler will be vocal soloists with Miss Annette Elme as accompanist. Miss Jenkins will sing The Lord's Prayer; Mrs. Stabler will present Ave Maria from Cavalleria Rusticana.

Members of the Dapper Dams, popular male quartet in the Honesdale area, are John McGowry, James Gregg, Dale Wolf and Richard Kretzner.

The Wallenpaupack Area High School Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Hildagard Crisman will highlight the program with several groups of inspirational numbers.

The fair program begins officially on Tuesday, Sept. 13 with the third annual dairy queen pageant which honors Wayne County's multi-million dollar milk producing industry.

Sgt. DONALD K. Smith, local Army recruiter, announced yesterday that Francis W. Myrthel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Myrthel, Readers, was enlisted in the Regular Army last week.

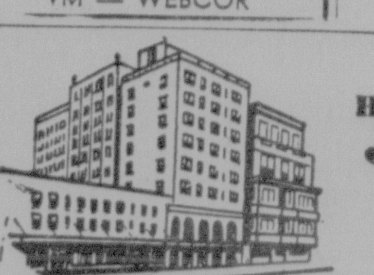

Francis enlisted under the Army's Guaranteed Schooling Program and upon completion of his basic training he will attend the Fixed Station Radio Equipment Operation and Maintenance School at Fort Monmouth, N. J. The young man graduated with last year's class at the Pocono Twp. High School, Tannersville.

Sgt. Smith also stated that he now has a good number of schools available for high school graduates that are planning on entering the service during the months of September and October.

Anyone enlisting in the Army under the schooling program are given a written guarantee before they enlist that they will attend the school of their choice. Term of enlistment is still only three years. For further information visit the Stroudsburg Postoffice or Phone HA 1-4911.

Dear Abby

Trust To Luck

Dear Abby: I come from a long line of Democrats, I fell in love with a man before I was a Republican. He was a Republican. He says his political party means a s m u c h to him as his religion. And if you heard him talk you would know he isn't kidding.

We get along fine as long as we keep politics out of the conversation. We love each other but I wonder if it is possible for two people to have a good marriage when they are so opposite in their political views.

Dear Democrat: It happens in the best of families. If you love each other, get married and may all your children have the hide of an elephant and the will of a donkey.

Dear Abby: I am a successful business man who is old enough to know better. I had a foolish little affair with a girl who worked in my office. It didn't last long. I soon realized how wrong it was and called it quits and got her a job elsewhere. She has been calling me and threatening to tell my wife if I don't hire her back and take up where we left off. I must have mixed up of my mind to get mixed up with her. What do I do now? I can't afford any scandal.

MUCH HAVE BEEN CRAZY

Dear Must: Do not take this girl back into your office. She can't throw mud on you without getting plenty on herself. If she talks, she talks, but I'd bet against it.

Dear Abby: I am 19 and am in love with a 24-year-old man. I have been dating him regularly for four months.

My problem is, how do you get a guy to tell you how he feels about you? He has never told me he loved me or said anything about our future together. Yet he acts like he enjoys my company, and as far as I know he never dates any other girls.

He was hurt once very badly by a girl, so maybe that is why he is so slow. Should I ask him if he loves me, or should I be patient and wait for him to make the next move?

Dear Becky: Slow up, Sister! Perhaps this fellow isn't sure of his feelings for you, or isn't ready to commit himself. Don't assume that you have a "future together" until he declares his intentions.

Dear Abby: I must be getting old. I just don't dig this younger generation. My son has been bringing his best girl friend to the house. After a few visits she started calling me by my first name. The first time I heard it I couldn't believe my ears. I suppose I should have corrected her but I couldn't bring myself to do it. Now that she's made a habit of it, how can I set her straight without making myself look like a witch?

CALL ME MRS.

Dear Mrs.: Ask your son to set her straight.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers all letters.

4th Generation Of Frey Family Follows Funeral Director Field

BY PERRY BANEROFF
SOUTH STERLING — More than 8,000 licenses have been issued to Pennsylvania funeral directors during the past 60 years, he period between the licensing of the first of four generations of the Frey family in 1905 and that of the fourth in 1960.

John G. Frey had practiced for nearly 15 years before he was required to be licensed in 1905. He received his certificate number 1,882 in that year.

FOURTH GENERATION — Arthur Frey of South Sterling became the fourth generation of his family to enter the undertaking business when he was certified by the state last week. Here he shows his mother, Mrs. Lydia Frey, his license to practice.

Eastburg Man Will Serve As Maggie Awards Judge

"DESPITE the widely held belief that paperback books are mainly sought out by the public for light, 'escape' reading, the greatest gains in sales recently have been in serious non-fiction," according to Sumner Schwartz, manager, Tri-State Newsdealers Supply Co., 25 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

"Reprints of fiction best sellers continue to lead in sales," he pointed out, "but a marked increase has occurred in the output and sale of non-fiction paperbacks covering a wide range of subjects."

The growing abundance of high quality reading material available in mass distribution at low cost, is underscored by the presentation of Maggie Awards — the "Oscars" and "Emmies" of the publishing world. These awards are offered annually in order to give recognition to the creators of the best paperbacks and magazines.

850 Members

Schwartz will serve as a judge of paperback publishers for the fourth annual Maggie Awards. He is also a member of the sponsoring organization — the Council for Periodical Distributors Associations — whose 850 members are leading distributors of magazines and paperbacks to more than 142,000 newsstands in the United States and Canada.

The Maggie Awards for 1960 will be presented on Sept. 28 in conjunction with the CPDA Convention in New York City. There will be a total of twelve awards presented, four to paperback publishers, five to general magazines, two to the best of the comics magazines and an award to "the outstanding magazine editor of the year."

Submits Low Pike Work Bid

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission Monday received an unofficial low bid of $1,322,572 for installation of 91.1 miles of medial guard rails on the toll road.

The bid was submitted by Withmeyer Bros., Inc., Hammon-ton, N. J.

The project includes installation of sections of galvanized steel guard rails in Allegheny, Westmoreland, Somerset, Bedford, Beaver, Butler, Dauphin, Lebanon and Lancaster counties.

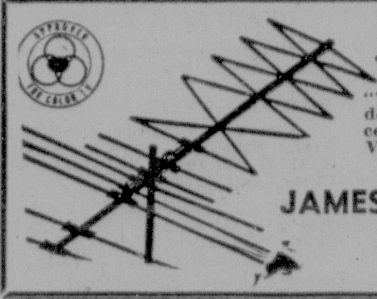

The commission is expected to discuss the bid at its regular meeting Tuesday. Commission Chairman Joseph Lawler has said he will also propose that the commission authorize installation of the medial rails on the remainder of the east-west roadway, a distance of about 200 miles.

K-Jap Confer

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev, just back from his summer vacation, received the Japanese Socialist leader, Mosaburo Suzuki, at the Kremlin Monday, Moscow radio reported.

He was succeeded in the business by his son Russell, who in turn was joined by his son, Charles.

This week the latter's son, Arthur, became the fourth generation of the Frey family to become a certified funeral director.

Arthur's license number is 10,123, indicating that 8,241 directors have been licensed in Pennsylvania since 1905.

Arthur Frey received his license last spring and his certificate this past week.

He was graduated cum laude from the American Academy of Funeral Science in New York city on April 1, 1959. He had attended Valley Forge Military Academy, Wayne, Pa., from which he graduated cumma cum laude.

More Honors

During his career at the Academy he was president of the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national honor society, and was editor of the year book, "Crossed Sabres."

He is a graduate of Greene-Dreher Joint High—now Southern Wayne Alumni Association and is a member of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Fair Association and the Tobyhanna Lions Club.

The location of the funeral home in South Sterling is popularly known by native residents of the area as "Freytown," since the several homes for the past 80 years were principally occupied by members of the Frey family.

G-D-S Fair To Feature 'Opry' Stars

STONEY Cooper, Wilma Lee and the Clinch Mountain Clan, stars of the famed Grand Ole Opry, Nashville, will be among the featured stage attractions at the 43rd annual Greene-Dreher-Sterling Fair which opens at the fairgrounds in Newfoundland Wednesday and continues through Saturday.

The Opry group will be spotlighted on Thursday, September 1. They will appear in person for two shows, the first of which is scheduled for 8 p.m., EDT.

In keeping with the policy of southern Wayne County agricultural exhibition, there will be no admission charge for this attraction or any of the entertainment features of the four-day event, according to Carroll Fetherman, association president.

"There is never an admission charge at the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Fair," Fetherman said. "This includes the front gate and admission to any of the stage or arena attractions. A twenty-five cent per car parking fee to those who wish to park on the fairgrounds proper is the only charge assessed," he added.

Vet Performers

Veteran performers in the country and western music field, Stony Cooper and Wilma Lee first attracted nationwide attention as stars of the Word WWA Jamboree, Wheeling, W. Va. in the late '40's prior to moving up the ladder to the "Carnegie Hall of country music," The Grand Ole Opry, a few years ago.

In recent months they have had three recordings in the top five in the country music hit parade, namely, "Come Walk With Me," "The Big Wheel" and "The Big Midnight Special."

State Senators With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's two senators, Democrat Joseph S. Clark and Republican Hugh Scott, voted with the majority Monday as the Senate passed a catch-all $305,042,731 money bill which includes 190 millions for foreign aid.

Earlier Sen. Scott voted with the majority as the Senate passed 74-11 and sent to President Eisenhower the compromise social security bill. Sen. Clark voted against the measure.

INSTALLATION of a public address system in the Monroe County Home, near Snyder'sville, has been completed and is in use, officials announced yesterday.

The new system will enable the residents of the home to hear religious services held in the dining room, on Sundays.

The new system was made possible by contributions from East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, Ladies Bible Class of Grace Lutheran Church, Keller's Reformed Sunday School of Cherry Valley, United Lutheran Women of Grace Lutheran Church, Deacon's Fund of the First Baptist Church of East Stroudsburg.

Also Keekee Chapel, Monroe County Women's Christian Temperance Union, Van D. Yetter, Jr., Mrs. Gustave Larsen, Monroe County Commissioners, Harold Knipe and Edward Rahn.

No Injuries As Vehicle Jumps Curb

NO ONE was injured in a one-car accident on Brown St., East Stroudsburg, about 9 p.m. yesterday.

Borough police said a car driven by Edward J. Decker, 17, Phillips St., Stroudsburg, was traveling east on the street when it jumped the curb, ran over a lawn and sideswiped a building of the Redmond Finishing Co.

Badly Scraped, Dented

Three juvenile passengers in the vehicle and the driver escaped injury. Damage to the building was slight. The right side of the car, owned by Stewart Decker of the Phillips St. address, was badly scraped and dented.

Chrysler Sues For $30 Million

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Chrysler Corp. sued one of its stockholders Monday for more than 30 million dollars, charging he made deliberate libelous and slanderous statements to injure the giant auto maker.

The lawsuit against Atty. Sol A. Dann of Detroit tended to serve as Chrysler's reply to three legal actions filed by Dann and two other stockholders that the auto firm was mismanaged and that some of its officers acted fraudulently.

Chrysler said Dann, who owns about 5,100 shares of stock, made "false, malicious and defamatory" statements about the firm's financial statements and conditions; about its credit and financing arrangements; and about the counting of proxy votes at the annual stockholders meeting last April. For each of these Chrysler wants 10 million dollars plus punitive damages.

No Heat Relief Seen For Awhile

Hot, humid weather covered the Pocono Mountains like a blanket yesterday—and there is more to come.

The U. S. Weather Bureau's five-day forecast for the period ending Saturday calls for temperatures to range from five to eight degrees above normal in this section.

A brief rainstorm about 6 p.m. did little to relieve the humidity. Temperatures remained in the 80s even after dark.

A THUNDERSTORM later finally dropped the temperatures into the upper 70s. It was accompanied by heavy thunder and brilliant flashes of lightning.

A total of three-tenths of an inch of rain had fallen at 9:30 p.m. as measured on The Daily Record's rain gauge.

It was reported that television was interrupted by lightning. However it was not learned whether the damage was confined to the TV relay station's amplifiers or another electrical outfit.

Scattered showers are predicted for Saturday, but total rainfall is expected to be only about one fifth of an inch.

Reached 97 Degrees

The mercury reached 97 degrees on The Daily Record thermometer yesterday for one of the warmest days of the Summer. But it was the humidity which made the discomfort generally felt.

Says Institution Under Secrecy

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A trustee of the Torrance State Hospital, Westmoreland County, charges the institution is operated in "an atmosphere of secrecy and a veil of fear of reprisal or discipline."

Joseph Cernuto of Mt. Pleasant, in a letter published Monday by the Johnstown Tribune-Democrat, said the hospital superintendent does not consult the trustees and "they just go through the motions."

He demanded a shakeup in the hospital's administration.

Dann said in Detroit, "I do not intend to be frightened by this lawsuit."

Unemployment Analyzed

"Who are the unemployed?" — a question that has puzzled us for quite some time — is answered in a job study just completed by the University of Michigan.

Based on widespread interviews over a two-year period, economists of the university have concluded that "nearly two-thirds of all persons out of work in that period are chronically unemployed."

In other words, "unemployment was the usual thing for them."

"These findings suggest," according to the researchers, "that under present economic conditions much of the unemployment that occurs affects the same workers repeatedly, while most people seem to be wholly immune."

Education appears to have much to do with this. Four out of five with college educations never have employment trouble, but 46 percent of those with only a grade school preparation suffer repeated periods of unemployment.

The survey lends new emphasis to the importance of retraining adults who neglected youthful opportunities for schooling in the field of any natural skills they might possess.

Opinions Of Other Editors

And Not So Pressing After All

Now it seems the shirt-tail meeting of Congress, arranged by the Democrats to take care of various "pressing" bills, may end ahead of schedule with several "liberal" measures either defeated or shelved.

There were the usual cynics, of course, who suggested from the beginning that the extra meeting might be a political gimmick designed to put the Republicans on record against Government-distributed goodies. In theory the Democrats couldn't lose.

If their high-spending plans were approved, they could claim credit. If their bills were vetoed, the Republicans would suffer for it at the polls. The scheme seemed airtight because in a Presidential election year—so the lofty liberal theory goes—the voter is only an outstretched hand.

Unfortunately for Messrs. Johnson and Kennedy, the best laid plans of politicians sometimes go awry. In this case, it was the Republicans who sponsored a civil rights bill which the Democrats decided to reject.

Then the Republicans and conservative Democrats teamed up to knock down a plan to put old-age medical benefits under Social Security.

And other measures, such as Federal aid to the housing industry and Federal aid to education, have thus far not made it to the floor.

So now Senator Kennedy has declared that he's for cutting the session short and going home just as fast as possible.

And perhaps, as if it were needed, this is the final evidence that all those "pressing" bills are not really very pressing after all.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Communist Problem

It should be clear to anyone by now that the most serious historical and political problem we are facing is not only the Communist problem, but the problem of the Communist Revolution which affects every continent and gives us no peace. Even those and 1940's felt that the outcry against the peril of the Communist Revolution was exaggerated are now beginning to realize that in those days we did not know the half of it.

Those who felt that Russia would calm down after a victorious war against Germany today acknowledge that Russia is now our principal domestic as well as foreign problem.

Richard Nixon has wisely opened his campaign for the Presidency by a major report on the perils of ignorance of the subject. Correctly he stated:

"If the Free World is to win this struggle, we must have men and women who not only are against Communism but who know why they are against and who know what they are going to do about it. Communism is a false idea, and the answer to a false idea is truth, not ignorance."

Unfortunately the understanding of Marxism in this country is not general. Many Americans who are anti-Communists abhor Communism, but they do not know why and when one questions them, they generally give the wrong reasons.

I recall conversing with two women who regard themselves well informed on this subject, but no Marxist would understand what they were talking about. Most of their ideas about Communism related to Utopian Socialism and really what they were most concerned about were their own large bank statements and their social status.

Nixon shows that he has studied the subject and understands the nature of the permanent revolution. His last paragraph is a statement of his personal ideals:

"If mankind is to survive at a level of dignity worthy of its great past, we must help the world recapture some sense of the teachings of the great thinkers of former ages. It must come again to see that sound legal and political institutions not only express man's highest ideal of what he may become, but that they are indispensable instruments for enabling him to realize that ideal."

"It would be comforting to believe that the forces of history are working inevitably toward this realization and that we too are cooperating with the inevitable . . ."

The same problem will face the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association which meets this week. A committee has drawn up a report which while it is not as philosophic as Richard Nixon's statement, it is more a study of Communist activities in the United States from the standpoint of a lawyer. It is a sound report. I was particularly interested in what this document had to say about Communist lawyers:

"A group of Los Angeles lawyers, who had quit the CP in disillusionment in the latter 1940's described their party experiences. Most of them had been recruited into the CP after the other lawyer members had induced them to attend informal 'legal' discussion groups where they were gradually exposed to Marxist philosophy."

"When they actually joined the Party, the new recruits were placed in a special 'lawyers' group, whose membership was kept secret. There they received intensive indoctrination aimed at guiding their thinking along accepted CP channels. Communist lawyers are not allowed to disagree with Party theory and policies. They either abide by Party dictates or leave the Party."

The is so because the Communist Party is a disciplined organization in which each member conforms to the Party line and obeys the Party's orders. This is the universal pattern. Even such figures as Tito Broz, Chiang Kai-shek and Earl Browder discovered what it could mean to reject the implicit orders of the central authority. On this the report says:

"The behavior of defense counsel in the 1949 New York Smith Act trial was in complete accord with the Party's standard courtroom strategy. Throughout the long trial, a group of defense lawyers indulged in a spectacular display of abusive and disruptive conduct. These lawyers were determined to interrupt the legal proceedings by any means and to introduce Communist propaganda at every opening as long as the trial continued."

The report of the American Bar Association Committee on Communist Tactics, Strategy and Objectives should be thoroughly debated by the House of Delegates.

The Pennsylvania Story

Clash Of Parties

By Mason Denison (Ed. Note: Pennsylvania's two state party chairmen—Democratic State Chairman John S. Rice and Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom—have been asked by Mason Denison to serve as guest columnists, expressing their thoughts on the subject: "The importance of Pennsylvania in the November 8 election"—an election that may well hinge on the course Pennsylvania itself takes.)

By John S. Rice Democratic State Committee Harrisburg — In this presidential campaign year Pennsylvanians may well find it easier to focus most of their attention on the national clash of the two major parties.

And, of course, Pennsylvanians have a direct stake in many of the national campaign issues. For example, in any discussion of the depressed areas bill, voters must know that twice a Democratic Congress in Washington passed a bill to create more jobs in hard-hit sections of unemployment, many in Pennsylvania, and that twice Republican President Eisenhower vetoed the bill, even over the pleas of some Pennsylvania Republican Congressmen.

But I believe the 1960 election is equally crucial for our Pennsylvania state government. And the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania will stress the importance of this election in terms which Pennsylvanians voters understand.

The campaign will pit a positive record of Democratic achievement in Pennsylvania against a negative brand of Republican obstruction, delay and high-handed politics, both harmful and costly to Pennsylvania taxpayers.

The election will mean an airing of two entirely different approaches towards the operation of Pennsylvania state government. Democratic legislators in Harrisburg, together with the Democratic Administration, believe strongly they are charged with an obligation to improve their state and to advance the welfare of the people who sent them there. Democratic candidates seeking to be elective officials know they have a responsibility to get things done for their electorate.

At the same time, it will mean an honest appraisal of a Republican attitude, which more and more Pennsylvanians are realizing is the only thing the Republican Party knows, that of being "against." What, I ask, is the Republican Party in Pennsylvania ever "for"? As one leading Independent Pennsylvania newspaper recently wrote: "... Against, against, against. This is the familiar Republican stance, and it is not the least of the reasons there has been one Republican debacle after another."

Given an opportunity to act without partisanship in the interests of the Commonwealth and the betterment of its people, the Republican Party of Pennsylvania, now concentrated in a small band of State Senators, instead thinks only of cynical politics. The people of Pennsylvania, regardless of political affiliation, are the losers.

During its first two years Governor Lawrence's Administration has tried to work with this antagonistic State Senate. He has the support of a Democratic-controlled House of Representatives and has continued the humanitarian programs of former Governor Leader, expanding them when the State's budget permitted. Republicans have tried wherever possible to make political capital in their opposition to these programs.

In this campaign the people know they must elect Democratic House and Senate candidates to represent them in Harrisburg, just as people, nationwide, continue to elect more and more Democratic Congressmen and Senators to represent them in Washington.

The people will know their votes for Democratic House and Senate candidates assure for them greater job opportunities through more State-local industrial development programs and the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, an economically sound program, based on loans, not give-aways, a solid achievement begun by the Leader Administration and continued by the Lawrence Administration.

The people will know their votes for Democratic leadership will assure greater advancements in mental health with the continuing programs pioneered by Democrats in Pennsylvania.

The people will know that Democratic leadership assures continuation of a better highway system, including the newest, cross-state Keystone Shortway which heralds new economic growth across the Commonwealth.

There is a growing confidence in the Democratic Party which is reflected in the current registration figures in Pennsylvania. Just ten years ago Pennsylvania was considered a Republican stronghold with its close-to-one million Republican registration lead. That was reduced to less than 25,000 by last April. ## Off The Record

By Robert Clark, City Editor

We don't usually go around plugging books. But the recent pocketbook edition, depicting the crimes against the Jewish race by Adolph Elchmann brought our red book almost to a boil. Most of the material contained in the book are excerpts from testimony at the Nuremberg trial and quotes from high Nazi officials who with Elchmann reportedly exterminated 6,000,000 members of the Jewish race during the infamous reign of Adolph Hitler.

Elchmann, we know, was the man caught in South America by Israeli secret agents and will be brought to trial in Israel for his part in the death destruction of the Jews in Europe and parts of Russia.

Perhaps as the old saying goes, "We never lived." If so then we hope we never see or hear of another episode as sickly as the Hitler extermination project during his powerful hold over Germany from 1933 to his fall in 1945.

The acts of Hitler, Elchmann, Rudolph Hoess and other so-called subordinates, even if only half true and the figures only one third of the reported kill, were insane. Only a person or persons with corrupt, fanatic minds could have thought of or carried out such horrible mass extermination of a people who have probably more than any other race leaders in all walks of life.

Henry Zeiger, the man who edited the Adolph Elchmann book which incidentally has a foreword by Harry Golden, doesn't attempt to give the reasons for the asinine Nazi movement but lets the readers grab all the dope from the words of German war criminals. Their stories are evidence enough of the Jewish peril.

What they said in their trials and in the information gathered by intelligence the "Battle against the Jewish Race" was the Number One project from start to finish.

While the book draws anger for the ruthless, non-sensical "campaign" it is the nauseating feeling that comes over one when learning such measures were taken by a considered civilized people.

We are grateful that Zeiger brought out such a chronological report. Not for the sake of good reading but the fact that war only brings horrors.

Probably though we'll never again see the atrocities of World War II when a single race was singled out in Europe and nearly exterminated. At least we hope so.

While we are headed for a Democratic registration lead in Pennsylvania for the first time in more than 100 years.

Just as the nation's voters are turning to a strong, creative Democratic administration to give all Americans a new sense of purpose and leadership, so too Pennsylvanians, eager to restore Pennsylvania to her rightful place in the arena of great states, are rejecting outmoded, politics-first Republicanism and turning to people-first Democratic leadership. The 1960 election will see Pennsylvania Democratic in fact as well as spirit.

The Allen-Scott Report

Trujillo Perils Missiles

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott Washington — The U.S. is squaring off for a tough showdown with another Caribbean dictator — Gen. Rafael Trujillo.

The long-time tyrannical Dominican ruler is threatening to "disrupt" the vital U.S. missile tracking system that stretches thousands of miles across the South Atlantic from Cape Canaveral, Fla., to Brazil.

The State Department has been notified by Trujillo he is preparing to do this in direct retaliation for this country's impending diplomatic and economic crackdowns in pursuance of the denunciatory sanctions voted against him by the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States at their conference in Costa Rica.

The use of force if necessary to bar this avowed "grave obstructionism" has been urgently recommended to President Eisenhower by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In a memorandum the top military leaders pointed out that the U.S. tracking facilities within Dominican jurisdiction are "indispensable for a fully operating Atlantic testing range, and the U.S. cannot do without them for the effective development of missiles."

Secretary Herter is counseling caution on such forceful measures.

The State Department chief contends the use of force, even against such a widely-condemned dictator as Trujillo, would react adversely against this country both in Latin America and elsewhere.

It is Herter's view that Trujillo's protracted under-handed domination is nearing an end, and even if he should "disrupt" the tracking system, it would only be temporary.

Two key links in this crucial network are under Dominican control.

One is a tracking station there manned by U.S. technicians. It is one of 12 such facilities extending across the 6,000-mile South Atlantic missile range. The Dominican station is particularly important because it is a relay point, especially for weather data essential for testing.

All these far-flung tracking stations are of major importance in maintaining a close check on weather conditions throughout the testing range.

The second link is an equally consequential communications cable within Dominican waters along its northern shore. This cable transmits to Cape Canaveral the tracking, weather and reports of the other stations.

This cable is imperative because of the uncertainty of radio communications in this area due to frequent storms and other adverse atmospheric conditions.

Dominican interference with this cable, as threatened by Trujillo, would completely immobilize this vital communications network.

Despite these hostile undercover moves, the Dominican dictator has put out feelers for a meeting with President Eisenhower when Trujillo comes to the United Nations next month as head of his country's delegation to the General Assembly session.

So far these overtures, through Americans with business interests in the Dominican Republic, have gotten nowhere — and there is no likelihood they will.

Doing the cha-cha-cha — While Premier Castro is boasting of the support and friendship of Russia and Red China, he is continuing to buy considerable machinery and parts in the U.S. for the plants and other properties he confiscated.

This is due to the fact that virtually all of Cuba's industry is American-made, and in numerous instances more advanced than anything the Reds have. Soviet engineers have been baffled by the ultra-modern oil refineries seized by Castro, and haven't yet got them into full operation.

Similarly, Cuba has to get replacements for its sugar grinding mills from this country which financed and installed them.

Sen. John Kennedy has told leaders of the Foreign Relations Committee that if elected President, he will make a "get-acquainted trip to Latin America before taking office in January," and also will vigorously "encourage inter-American tourism, particularly through the prompt completion and improvement of the inter-American highway." Both these moves were urged by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.), Assistant Floor Leader and a ranking member of the influential Committee.

Notable Records — The "GI court," officially known as the United States Court of Military Appeals, has rendered more than 1,600 opinions in its nine years' existence. The three judges average 59 rulings a year, as compared to 40 for circuit courts and 25 for state supreme courts.

The Military Appeals Court, consisting of civilian jurists named by the President, is the top tribunal of the armed services. It can be overruled only by the U.S. Supreme Court, and then solely on constitutional issues.

Two famed paratroopers are now on duty at Ft. Campbell, Ky., with the illustrious 101st Airborne Division that heroically held Bastogne during the crucial Battle of the Bulge.

They are M-Sgt. William "Red" King and M-Sgt. Paul B. Huff; the former the first enlisted paratrooper in the Army, and the latter the first paratrooper to win the Medal of Honor. Recently they commemorated their 20th anniversary in the Airborne service with jumps. For Sgt. King, it was his 35th jump.

Margaret Winans Becomes Bride Of John Fetherman

Miss Margaret Louise Winans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Smith, of Marshalls Creek, and John LeRoy Fetherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fetherman, also of Marshalls Creek, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Aug. 20, in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Craigs Meadows.

Rev. William Wunder performed the double-ring ceremony at 4 p.m. that day.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, wore a full-length gown of white satin overlaid with panels of Alencon lace and a matching lace jacket. Her illusion net veil was attached to a tiara of heirloom lace.

The bride carried her maternal great grandmother's prayer book, topped by a white orchid with a cascade of white ribbons and baby's breath.

Her attendants were: Mrs. Owen D. Straight, of Easton, matron of honor, and Miss Bonnie Heeter, niece of the groom, of East Stroudsburg, junior bridesmaid.

Mrs. Straight wore a street-length bouffant gown of romance blue silk organza and a matching bandeau headpiece with a half veil. She carried a pastel colonial nosegay of mixed flowers.

Miss Heeter wore a full-length blue silk organza gown with cap sleeves and self-embroidered neckline.

Her bouquet and headpiece were identical with those of the matron of honor.

The church altar was decorated with an arrangement of white gladioli and pom poms. Music was by Mrs. Grace Walters, who played the traditional wedding march. Mrs. Ellwood Mosteller sang: "The Wedding Prayer" and "Because" and also rendered "The Lord's Prayer." Acolyte, cousin of the bride, was Lawrence H. McCrary, of Elberton, Ga.

Best man was Raymond C. Whitehead, Jr., of Riverdale, N.J. Ushers were Harold Stettler, Marshalls Creek; and Robert Heeter, of East Stroudsburg. The bride's mother wore a street-length dress of powder blue silk.

Education For Marriage Course To Start Sept. 13

The Monroe County Ministerium announces the second course in "Education for Marriage" to be held at the YMCA on four consecutive Tuesday nights beginning September 13th and continuing through October 4th.

The course is open to all engaged and newly married couples in Monroe County and is being sponsored by the Ministerium, the Monroe County YMCA and the Monroe County Planned Parenthood Assn.

The Marriage Course was offered last October for the first time in 12 years in the area and, because of the interest of the young couples participating in it, it has been decided to continue the project as a yearly undertaking.

The course is a result of many meetings held last year by representatives of the above mentioned organizations who felt the need locally for such a group course in marriage education. It is the aim of the course to give accurate information to the couples who attend, through frank and open discussion in a group setting.

The discussion leaders are encouraged to be flexible in their presentation of material as there are so many variables in marriage. The leaders attempt to encourage good attitudes, open-mindedness, free communication and selflessness between husband and wife.

Such a course allows the young couple to take time out from the confusion of the details of their wedding — selecting attendants and clothes — or selecting furniture, and to turn their thoughts to the more lasting aspects of their marriage and life together.

After the lecture a better companionship should exist as they continue their discussion in private concerning the new avenues of communication open to them.

The newlyweds will tour Lake George, N.Y. area on their wedding trip. The bride was attired, for the trip, in a white dress of Egyptian cotton with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Upon their return, they will reside at their newly furnished home in Marshalls Creek.

The bride was graduated from East Stroudsburg High School and the Montgomery Hospital School of Nursing in Norristown, Pa.

Her husband attended East Stroudsburg High School, served several years with the U.S. Navy, and is presently employed at Trumatic Corp.

This Woman Is Canine's Best Friend

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — The laboratory research dog's best friend is Miss Carolyn Verhoeff, a pillar of Kentucky humane societies for 37 years.

Strangely, she also is on excellent terms with the scientists who use dogs for experiments. Her kind eyes flash fire when she is mistakenly termed an anti-vivisectionist, someone who opposes any experimental use of animals.

"I don't tell those horrible tales about dogs being tortured," she says. "I'm not in that class at all."

Miss Verhoeff is squarely in the middle. She acknowledges the usefulness of animals for scientific experiments, but she wants it done painlessly as possible.

"I'm simply against cruelty in any form," she says. "If it is right to torture helpless animals to increase the sum of knowledge, why should it be wrong to torture helpless humans for the same purpose?"

In 1922 Miss Verhoeff worked out an agreement with the University of Louisville, the first such pact in the nation.

It provided stray animals for the laboratory if Miss Verhoeff could inspect and supervise their care. A veterinarian now is paid for that job.

"I don't have the strength anymore," says Miss Verhoeff, who is past 70. "But I can't tear myself away; I go to the lab when I'm able to."

The National Society for Medical Research, representing 450 national scientific organizations, recently presented Miss Verhoeff with a plaque for her "constructive concern for the welfare of animals serving medical science."

Rosemary A. Mekeel Weds At Candlelight Ceremony

In a candle-light ceremony at eight o'clock in the evening of Saturday, Aug. 27, Rosemary Ann Mekeel, daughter of Mrs. Robert Paxson Mekeel, of 338 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, and the late Mr. Mekeel, was married to Ronald Christian Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Schwartz, of 60 Penn St., East Stroudsburg.

The ceremony was performed in Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church by Rev. William F. Wunder. The altar was decorated with white gladioli, and chancel flowers were white and pink mums. Pews lined the chancel steps, and aisle pews were decorated with white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride wore a ballerina-length bouffant gown of white chiffon over taffeta, with a portrait collar neckline. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle fell from a Juliet cap of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and ivy.

Miss Mary Virginia Romig, of Camp Hill, was maid of honor for her cousin. Her gown was pale powder blue veiled silk organza, with an overskirt of sheer organza. Her headress was a circlet of blue organza and seed pearls, with an illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and ivy.

The bride's mother wore a street-length gown of rose brocade, with matching accessories, and a corsage of white gardenias. The bridegroom's mother was gowned in soft green and gold brocade, and a feathered hat of the same fabric. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Numa Snyder was organist for the ceremony, and Lawrence A. Dilline was acolyte.

A reception for one hundred guests was held in the Church Parish House social room, which was decorated with white gladioli and pink and white mums. Windows were banked with yew and ivy, and centered with tall lighted tapers. The bride's table was decorated with white and pink mums, while the buffet table was garlanded with white gladioli and ivy.

After the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to the Adirondacks. For going away, the bride wore an ensemble of pale green dacton and a corsage of white gardenias.

Upon their return from their wedding trip, the couple will reside at 338 Normal St., East Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Schwartz was graduated from East Stroudsburg Area Joint Senior High School, attended Churchman Business College for one year, and is a sophomore at East Stroudsburg State College. Her husband was also graduated from East Stroudsburg High School, served four years in the United States Navy during the Korean conflict, and is also a student at East Stroudsburg State College.

E. Stroudsburg Woman Is Winner In Canadian Show

AN EAST Stroudsburg Woman was a recent winner in the Handicraft Competitions at the Canadian National Exhibition. The exhibit has an international flavor with entries from as far away as England and Atlanta, Georgia.

Mrs. Alice Warnke of Quaint Acres, RD 1, East Stroudsburg, won two prizes—one for knitting and one for needlepoint. Other entries came from such distant points as Louisville, Kentucky and Washington, D. C.

Many thousands of entries kept the judges busy for several days. Mrs. Elsa Jenkins, Manager of the CNE Women's Division said, "Entries kept coming in right up to the last minute. We were almost afraid we'd run out of space, but it is wonderful to see such growing interest. There were many hundreds more entries than last year, particularly in the knitting class. We are happy to see that many of the entries came from New Canadians."

The prize winning entries, from all provinces across Canada, and the United States will be displayed in the Exhibit Hall of the Queen Elizabeth Building during the Exhibition Aug. 24th to Sept. 10th.

A barbeque birthday party honoring two cousins was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Muffley, of Poplar Valley on Sunday.

Tobian Earns First U.S. Gold Medal; Russia Leads

By TED SMITH
Associated Press Sports Editor

ROME (AP)—The United States won its first gold medal of the 1960 Olympic games Monday in Rome's searing 95-degree heat but Russia shot out ahead in the race for unofficial team honors by grabbing three.

Red-haired Gary Tobian of Glendale, Calif. captured the 3-meter springboard diving title with his teammate, Sam Hall of Dayton, Ohio, taking the second place silver medal. It was the ninth consecutive victory for the U.S. in the event.

Additional evidence of Yankee power came from the performance of Carolyn Schuler, 17-year-old Orinda, Calif. school girl who broke the Olympic record in preliminaries of the women's 100-meter butterfly stroke with a time of 1:09.8. Carolyn Wood, 14-year-old tenth grader from Portland, Ore. also won her heat in 1:11, just short of the old record.

Hopes Lifted
Bill Mulliken of Champaign, Ill. boosted American hopes by smashing his own three-day Olympic record by winning a semifinal heat of the 200-meter men's breast stroke in 2:37.2. Paul Hait of Pasadena, Calif., the other U.S. entry was third in the other semifinal, also qualifying for Tuesday's final.

Dawn Fraser, the defending champion from Australia, became the first ever to win the women's 100-meter freestyle swimming event twice. Miss Fraser broke the Olympic record and tied the existing world record with a 1:01.2

although she has a better time pending for recognition.

Von Saltza Second
Chris Von Saltza, 16-year-old blonde from Saratoga, Calif., was second in 1:02.8. Carolyn Wood, the other American, was fourth in 1:03.4, behind Great Britain's Natalie Steward.

The U.S. men's 800-meter freestyle relay team also qualified smartly — bettering the listed world record with an 8:18 clocking in winning the second of two heats. The taste of that one was tempered by Japan's smashing victory in the first heat in 8:17.1—nine-tenths of a second faster than the Americans' time.

The United States basketball team, heavily favored to go through the Olympics without defeat, made short work of Hungary 107-63, advancing into the semifinal round with its third straight victory. The U.S. water polo team defeated Belgium 5-2. Russia, however, cashed in heavily by winning three of the seven canoe and kayak finals and took over first place from Italy in the team race.

After 17 events, the Italians had five gold medals, the Russians three and Germany and Australia two each — the only ones with more than one. The unofficial point score leaders on a 10-5-4-3-1 basis were: Russia 61, Italy and Germany 60; United States 40, Hungary 39, and Australia 25.

Italy rushed up to challenge by adding two gold medals in cycling, giving the hosts a sweep of the five cycling events determined so far.

There also was intense activity off the fields of competition.

Open Inquiry
Italy formally opened an inquiry into the death of a young Danish cyclist, Knud Enemark Jensen, the first case ever of an Olympic athlete's fatality in which a drug figured.

Athletics sources in Copenhagen acknowledged that he took rocinol, a relatively mild drug used to stimulate blood circulation, before the start of Friday's 100-kilometer (26-mile) road race. He collapsed and died after he finished.

The controversy over the men's 100-meter freestyle swim Saturday in which Australia's John Devitt got the nod over America's Lance Larson, kept boiling. Americans claim Larson won by inches, and Max Ritter, U.S. member of the International Swimming Federation, said he had movie films that proved it.

Film May Help
The federation jury turned down Ritter's first appeal Sunday. Ritter said he appealed again and added if he did not get satisfaction he would take the case to the International Olympic Committee. There is solid Olympic precedent for reversing decisions where there is clearcut film evidence.

Tobian was second in springboard at the last games. He won a spectacular duel for the title with Hall and Mexico's Juan Botella, Tobian scored 170 points, Botella 162.30.

Teenagers showed the way in the United States in the preliminary heats of the women's 100-meter breaststroke. Miss Schuler was given tough competition in her heat by Janice Andrew of Australia, who was clocked in 1:10.3, also under the Olympic record of 1:11.0 set by Shelley Mann of the United States in 1956.

Miss Wood qualified easily for Tuesday night's finals.

Cagers Impressive
Despite the oppressive heat, the U.S. basketball team gave its most impressive performance at these games.

Oscar (Big O) Robertson of the University of Cincinnati, with 22 points, and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, with 21, set the pace.

But Coach Pete Newell was still bothered by the officiating.

"They seem to be giving us a quick count," he said, concerning a rule that forbids a player from remaining three seconds in a zone painted around the foul line.

The basketball teams took Tuesday and Wednesday off and then swing back into action Thursday night.

Rowing starts Tuesday at Lake Albano where canoeing left off. This is expected to be a battle between the United States and Germany.

Track and field opens Wednesday, with the United States clearly favored in men's events and Russia in women's.

Diving Finals
The Tuesday program includes the final of the women's 10-meter platform diving in which Germany's Ingrid Kramer piled up a lead over Mrs. Paula Jean Pope of Santa Ana, Calif. Mrs. Pope was upset by the German girl in the 3-meter springboard competition. Mrs. Juno Irwin of Glendale, Calif. ranked sixth going into the platform finals.

Tuesday night's schedule will include the finals of the women's 100-meter butterfly and the men's 200-meter breaststroke as well as heats in the men's 100-meter breaststroke.

Albert Axelrod, competing for the United States in his third Olympic games, reached the quarter-finals of the individual foil competition. In 1956 the Scarsdale, N.Y. fencer reached the semifinals.

Gene Glazer, a New York University senior, forced his way through a barrage to become the second American to qualify for the quarter-finals by defeating Alan Jay, Great Britain's world foil champ.

Joseph Poletta, of New Rochelle, N.Y., the third American in the competition, was beaten in the second group.

Favored Hungary and a pair of surprising outsiders — United and Mexico — were battling for the modern pentathlon crown. The U.S. was second to Hungary after Monday's third event — pistol shooting.

Wrestlers Move Up
Richie Wilson, a flyweight Greco-Roman wrestler won his third round bout and light welterweight boxer Quincy Daniels won his second-round match by a decision over Alexandre Mitzew, an elusive Bulgarian.

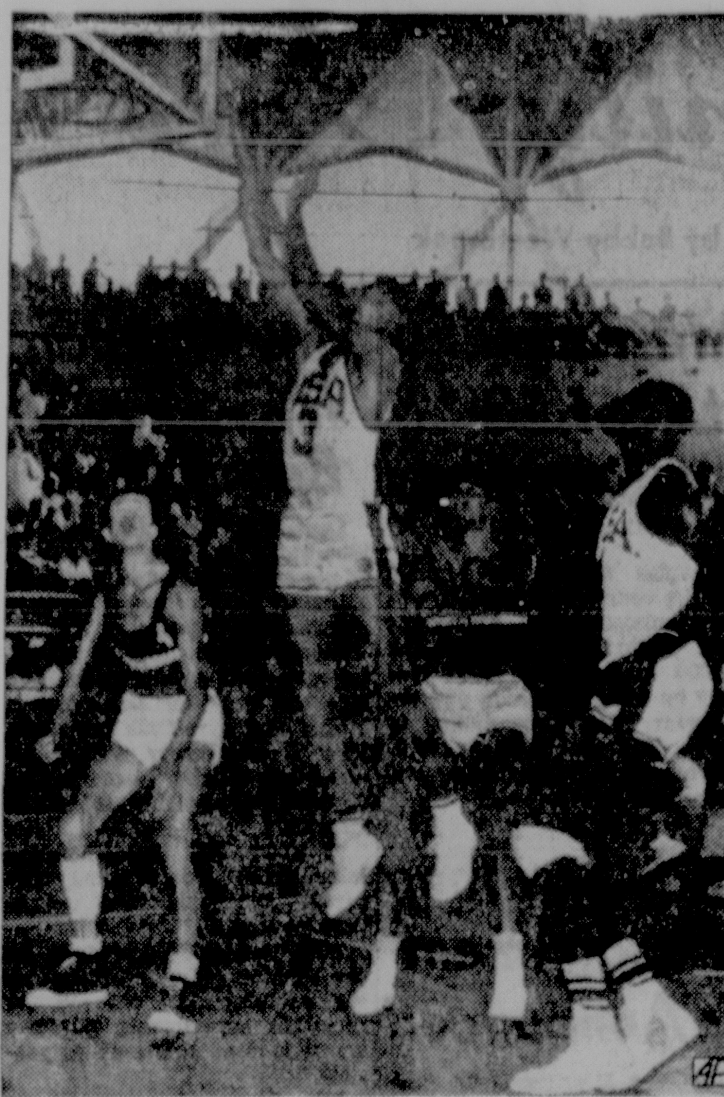

Jerry Armstrong, American bantamweight boxer from Pocatello, Idaho continued his advance in the Olympic competition with a decision over Choo Kang of Korea in a second-round match.

Boston Bumps K.C.
BOSTON (AP)—Frank Malzone and Lou Clinton crashed second inning home runs Monday night and sent Boston off and running to a 4-1 victory over the Kansas City A's.

Crash Practice Program To Open Thursday For ESSC

EAST STROUDSBURG State College opens fall football drills Thursday, with only 14 days of practice scheduled before the Warriors opening game.

Coach Jack Gregory's club meets Millersville on the road, Saturday, Sept. 17 and Gregory plans a "crash" practice program to get his squad of 59 ready for the opener.

Scrimmage Saturday
The Warriors will hold field session twice daily at 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., with a classroom drill in the evening.

And the test of the players summer conditioning program will come Saturday, when Gregory will hold a scrimmage after only two days of practice.

Of the 59 invites, 20 will be freshmen and eight of the newcomers played in "dream" or all-star games in the past few weeks.

Three of the most promising freshmen are Dick Adams, John Mitro and Ronald Kucharczyk.

Adams took part in the Delaware High School All-Star game Saturday night at Wilmington and Gregory who is the coordinator for the charity game was impressed with the big guard's play.

A 6-1, 205 pounder, Adams starred on both offense and defense Saturday. He played at Haverford High School before switching to a Delaware prep school.

Service Returnees
Mitro and Kucharczyk are service returnees and could possibly work into starters.

Mitro, 6-2, 220 pounds, was at tackle at Glen Nor High School three years ago before going into the service. Mitro's brother was an all-star at Glen Nor this year and is headed for Notre Dame.

Kucharczyk, a powerful fullback on the Northampton High teams a few years ago has been in the Marines for the past three years. The 6-0, 195 pound back was recommended to Gregory by Northampton coach Al Erdosy.

The East Stroudsburg coaches will be on a "three-day" meeting plan until practice opens.

Charles Reese, hired in April after a successful stay at Chambersburg H. S., will handle the backfield and Mort Hockneiser will coach the line. A third assistant Jim Reed, will not join the squad until the start of school.

Gregory expects an additional 20 candidates to join the team when class begins Sept. 7.

Cards Down Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—St. Louis right-hander Larry Jackson blanked Milwaukee 3-0 on three singles Monday night in hurling the Cardinals past the Braves into undisputed possession of second place.

The victory moved the Cards to within five games of first place Pittsburgh, pending the outcome of the Pirates' night meeting with the Dodgers in Los Angeles. The Braves dropped six games behind.

Jackson Wins 15th
Jackson struck out five and walked only one as he breezed to his 15th victory against 11 defeats. He didn't allow a Milwaukee runner to advance as far as second in taming the Braves for his third shutout.

The Cards, held to one hit by Milwaukee starter Joey Jay for six innings, pushed across single runs in each of the last three frames to extend their winning streak to four games. Their first three victories came with a sweep of a series with Pittsburgh.

St. Louis broke the scoreless deadlock in the seventh when Alex Grammas led off with a single to left, moved up on a wild pitch and came around on a pair of infield outs.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles rode to a 4-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox Monday night on the hitting of Jackie Brandt and the pitching of Jack Fisher.

The victory moved the Orioles to within 1½ games of idle first place New York Yankees. The loss dropped the defending American League champion White Sox 3½ games off the pace in third place.

Fisher, 21, hurled his first shutout of the season by limiting the White Sox to four singles. He struck out eight and walked three to get his 10th victory against nine losses.

Expansion Group Meeting Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League realignment committee meets here Tuesday in a second move toward increasing the baseball circuit from eight to 10 teams.

Joe Cronin, the league president, is scheduled to hear a report on expansion from the committee composed of Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees; Hank Greenberg, Vice president of the Chicago White Sox; into the left field bleachers for his 13th home run of the season. Gene Woodling and Brooks Robinson followed with doubles for another run after Walt Drogo was out on a hard hit grounder. Score left the mound with what turned out to be his ninth loss against four victories.

Joseph A. W. Inglehart, chairman of the board of the Baltimore Orioles, and George Medinger, vice president of the Cleveland Indians.

Woodling's double marked the 15th straight game he had hit safely and he followed with singles in the third and seventh to drive in two more Oriole runs.

Brandt tallied after doubling in the third and he pushed Marv Breeding, who was safe on short-stop Luis Aparicio's second error, around to second on a single in the seventh.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, AUG. 30, 1960

March 21 to April (Aries) — Mars aspect cautions you to be careful of your temper. Things might heat up to be handled. If you have a quarrel, be fair and calm. Be careful where facts come from.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Venus' configuration also advises extra precautions against miscommunication. Be sure you are understood. Be cheerful, hopeful, which attracts favors, makes it easier all around.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Good day for specializing, seeking out fresh means and advantages. But don't get too quick to start or tempo, overlooking whatever hazards require tact, coolness, meticulousness.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Let no one or anything beyond the least before you get into your daily orbit. Be off appropriate action. Being perturbed will only draw more irritation. Head wise hints.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You may find self in between friendly and less friendly situations. Work thoughtfully, taking all matters into consideration. Watch step, but without fear, anxiety.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Mercury's aspect says likely more advantages in the sign today than in Gemini's, though they are favorable. Be vigilant, carefully busy. Don't slacken in good intentions.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Leave no duties undone. Go to the more attractive but not as necessary. Little trip-ups here and there. Vigilance is day's watchword. You can straighten things out.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Recheck, is there a better way or method offered? Take on the more attractive but not as necessary. Little trip-ups here and there. Vigilance is day's watchword. You can straighten things out.

Frank S. Oyer Flies To Texas For John Deere

FRANK S. Oyer, of Stroudsburg RD 2, a John Deere dealer has been given the opportunity to see firsthand just how many independent businessmen a major manufacturer needs to sell and service its products throughout the United States and Canada.

Along with some 4,500 other independent businessmen who have John Deere dealer franchises in the United States and Canada, he flew to Dallas, Tex., yesterday for the biggest sales meeting of its type ever held.

Sixteen United States and Canadian airlines have cooperated in airlifting the 4,500 dealers and 1,500 other persons to Dallas within a 24-hour period. It is the first time any manufacturer has utilized as many airplanes, reserved as many accommodations, and arranged for as many meals for a single group at one time.

The meeting has been called to show dealers the new line of John Deere Tractors and equipment. Announcement was made this week that the new tractors will be put on the market in late September.

West End Scouts Plan Activities

ASSISTANT Scoutmaster Robert Hoffman outlined the scouting activities, for Troop 98, at a recent meeting naming Aug. 31 as the date for the rummage sale.

Scouts from the west end will have a booth on the midway at the West End Fair and will conduct the rummage sale there. Each boy in the troop will furnish five items to be placed in the booth and offered for sale.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase ceremonial supplies for the troop.

The mothers of the troop will hold their late summer bake sale Saturday, Sept. 10, in Altomose's Store. Each representative at the sale is asked to bring at least three home baked items.

The annual bake sale is one of the events to replenish the treasury before charter renewal time arrives. On Saturday, Sept. 17, the troop will camp at Gruber Lake, Reeders, and all boys eligible will be tested on outdoor events.

Farm Loan Changes

UNDER a recent change in the eligibility requirements for Farm Housing loans, a farmer who owns a farm that will annually produce for sale or home use at least $400 worth of commodities may, if he meets other eligibility requirements, be able to obtain a Farm Housing loan.

Previously, according to Frank Orendo, farm house administration county supervisor for Carbon, Lehigh, Monroe, Northampton and Pike Counties, an applicant had to own a farm that would produce a substantial amount of the operator's income.

Farm Housing loans are made by the Farm Home Administration and are used to construct and repair needed farm houses and farm service buildings.

Other eligibility requirements for Farm Housing loans remain unchanged. These requirements are that the applicant lacks the resources needed to obtain credit elsewhere, be a citizen of the United States and have sufficient income from farm and other sources to pay farm operating and family living expenses and meet payments, when due, on his debt.

Applications for this type of credit may be made at the Farmers Home Administration office, 208-210 Post Office Building, Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Gilbert Man Recalls Events Leading To Area's First Fair

By James D. Shafer
Daily Record Staff Reporter

JOSEPH Anewalt, 78, sat on the front porch of his home in Gilbert yesterday and looked out across the field and said, "It doesn't seem like it was 39 years ago that the fair was started."

Anewalt is the oldest living director of the West End Fair Association and still is serving as one of the directors.

When asked about the other men associated with the fair he said, "Well, as I recall, it was Prof. Frank Kochler who started the whole thing. He, John Meitzler, John Everitt, Sam Correll and Joseph Shupp were the original fathers of the stock company that founded the fair."

He then went to the house and came back with a small box filled with premium books of the fair. The oldest was dated 1922 and listed William H. Shafer, chairman; F. W. Deibert, vice-chairman; Lloyd Altemose, secretary; John M. Everitt; asst. secretary; and E. J. Kresge, treasurer as the fair's officers.

Looking back through the years Anewalt said, "The first fair was held at Weir Lake and several there after were also held there and then we bought a track of land from Ed Kresge and moved to the present location. I don't recall the year the move was made."

When asked why the move was made Anewalt said, "There was some disagreement with the stock holders of Weir Lake but that was many years ago and I have since forgotten the whole story. The move would have come sooner or later," he said, "as we kept growing each year."

"The fair started on a rather small scale and has been built to its present size and county's largest. We now own approximately 30 acres of land and just about all of it is used to the fullest extent."

He recalled the building of the refreshment stand near the dining room and quipped, "You know most of the trees in the grove are second growth."

"I don't remember when the land was lumbered off, I know it was before the association bought the land, but several of the original trees are still standing. The trees by the bandstand and by the dining room are original."

He recalled the building of the 1922 fair, with the aid of the premium book, and remarked where each one lived.

They were by township. Chestnut Hill Township: James F. Shiffer, F. S. Brong, Harley Everett, William Martin, William Mengle and S. E. Felker.

Polk Township: William R. High, W. E. Keller.

William Arnold, Howard Christman and Jacob Meitzler.

Eldred Township: Archie Kuehner, Jacob C. Barlich, Raymond Frantz, Charles Gower, Calvin Borger and Alvin Prutzman.

Ross Township: Washington Howell, Wilson Andrews, Robert Correll, William C. Roth, Joseph Fritz and Davis Shupp.

Hamilton Township: Garey Spragle, George Frable, Jesse Cyphers, Norman Fenner and Dayton Lesh.

B. J. Smiley, S. A. Williams, Harry Bond, Irvin Miller, Norman Butz and Valentine Miller.

Tunkhannock Township: A. B. Moyer, Josiah Keiper, Fred Herman, Howard Miller, Fred Kuenbecker and George Henning.

Anewalt continued, "The reason Tunkhannock Township is no longer a participating group dates back a few years. They just did not take an active part in the fair so they were dropped."

Then as one of the trucks bringing in the rides for the fair could be heard as it headed for the fair grounds, Anewalt recalled: "We didn't have them when we first started."

Carol Moll Selected As 4-H Queen

By Robert Stauffer
Assistant Monroe County Agent

CAROL MOLL, of Gilbert, has been selected queen of the Monroe County 4-H Horse Show to be held Wednesday at the West End Fair.

Miss Moll is an active member of the 4-H horse and pony club and has recently graduated from Polk Township High School. She plans to enter East Stroudsburg State College in September.

The queen's attendants for the show will be Heather Hendry, of Gilbert, and Katherine Hubbard, of Effort.

The 4-H Horse and Pony Club Show will begin at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the arena at the fair. There will be ten classes in the event.

Highlights will be the drill team ceremony, bareback equitation fitting and showing and a climax barrel race.

Scheduled at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday is the 4-H Tractor Driving Contest. This event will determine The Monroe County 4-H entry in the district tractor competition.

Club members of the county may exhibit their projects at the fair.

THE FARM, HOME & GARDEN SECTION WHICH WOULD NORMALLY BE FEATURED TODAY HAS BEEN REPLACED BY THIS SPECIAL SECTION COVERING THE WEST END FAIR

15 Divisions, With Many Classes In Each, Are Listed For 39th Annual West End Fair

By James D. Shafer
Daily Record
Staff Reporter

THE 39th Annual West End Fair will have 15 divisions, with many classes in each division, for entries, President of the Fair Maurice Kresge said last night.

The first division is cattle and George D. Jones is the entrance clerk.

Jones said, "In this division there will be 11 different classes each having three awards."

Regulations for the division are all cows over 36 months must have given birth to a calf at full maturity within the past year or show evidence of being with calf.

All cattle over six months must be from blood tested area or blood tested farm.

No bull over one year will be allowed on the grounds without a ring in its nose.

Division two and three A. L. Storm is the entrance clerk for these, the swine and sheep, divisions.

Storm said, "There will be eight classes for seven breeds of swine and six classes for four different breeds of sheep. The sheep will have six classes."

"Each breed will be judged separately and will take place in or near the newly erected swine pens on the fairgrounds."

Division four Under this division comes all chickens, ducks, turkeys, geese, guineas, pigeons, rabbits and dogs. The division has 17 different classes of entry.

"Competition in this division is open to all residents of Monroe County," said William Smale, entrance clerk of the division.

Division Five

Donald Everett, entrance clerk for this division, said, "In the division of hay, corn, grain and potatoes, all exhibits entered must have been raised and owned by the exhibitor, and exhibitors may enter in as many classes as they wish, but no exhibitor shall make more than one entry in a single class."

In the hay division there are six classes and all shall consist of a two to four inch section of hay taken from the middle of any bale.

There will be eight classes of corn, nine classes of grain and eight classes of potatoes. Each class will have three awards made by the judges.

Division Six

Rules governing this division are that all exhibits will be placed the afternoon and evening preceding the day of the fair from 1 p.m. and remain there until 10 p.m. the day of the fair.

Also all vegetables, in this garden produce division, must be raised and owned by the exhibitor.

In this division there are 39 classes to be judged.

Division Seven

This will be one of the larger divisions with the judging of apples, peaches, pears, plums, quinces, grapes and small fruit.

John Mackes is the entrance clerk in this division and said, "The fruit will be exhibited on plates furnished by the fair, and five specimens will constitute an exhibit."

"The small fruit and berries will be exhibited in quart berry boxes."

Division Eight

Mrs. N. Anglemeyer is the entrance clerk for this division of eight classes with different varieties in each class.

Mrs. Anglemeyer said, "A special baking award will be made this year for the best yeast raised bread, sweet bread or rolls from the entries this year."

She said last night, "A large number of entries are expected in this field and judging is expected to be hard."

Division Nine

This is the division for canned fruits, vegetables, jellies and preserves and Mrs. Arthur Krome is the entrance clerk.

"There are 102 classes in this division and judging is expected to be close."

She added, "All canned products must have been put up within the last year and must be in quart glass jars made of clear glass, except the jellies and preserves which will be in pint glasses."

Division Ten

This is the division for apiculture, honey, butter, cheese and eggs said Mrs. Floyd C. Altmore, entrance clerk for the division.

"Combed honey will be judged on filling of the comb, capping uniformity, neatness of section and general appearance for market," she declared.

"The scoring for extracted honey is based on body, flavor, clarity, cleanliness and general appearance for market," she added.

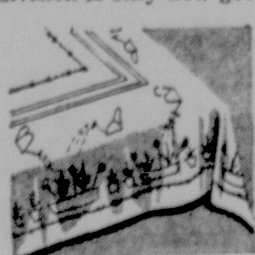

In the division there will be 14 classes.

Division Eleven

This is the division for crocheting, knitting, embroidery and all other needlework, said entrance clerk Mrs. Stanley Dunning, last night.

The division has ten sub-divisions and awards will be made

Mrs. Dunning said, "The main requirement for the 83 classes in this division is only new goods or those on exhibit for the first time will be accepted."

Division Twelve

In this division flowers and potted plants will be exhibited. Mrs. Hayden Murphy is the entrance clerk.

Mrs. W. H. Miller will be in charge of the specimens and arrangements will be made by Mrs. Lydis Serfass.

"In the division there will be 109 classes of entries and awards made in each of the classes. The division will also be sub-divided into annuals, perennials, potted plants and arrangements."

Division Thirteen

"This is the division open to all individuals, granges or other organizations in the county for competition," said Mrs. Floyd C. Altmore, entrance clerk for the division, "and it is for group displays."

Division Fourteen

"This division is open to boys studying vocational agriculture in the secondary schools of Monroe County or boys conducting junior projects," said Clifford Stroud, entrance clerk for the division.

The division has ten sub-divisions and awards will be made

In the 52 classes of the overall division.

Division Fifteen

This is the division for the High School homemaking classes and will have Mrs. Jeannette Mitchell and Mrs. Marian Mackes as the entrance clerks.

In the division there are 21 classes of entry.

Farm Committee Delegates

THE ANNUAL Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation convention for Monroe County will be held September 22 at the ASC Office, Monroe County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Chairman D. H. Griffith announced today.

The chief purpose of the meeting will be to elect the members of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee, who during the coming year will direct the various of Agriculture programs administered by the agency.

Committee members will be elected by convention delegates chosen earlier by mail in various communities of the county. The elected chairman of each community Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee is the community's delegate to the county convention, with other members as alternates.

The convention delegates will elect committee members for a one-year term. The person receiving the highest number of votes will be county chairman, followed in order by the vice chairman, third member, and first and second alternate.

The committeemen elected must be bona fide farmers who are taking part in one or more of the programs administered by the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, which include price support, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, the wool and sugar programs, farm storage facility loans, the Agricultural Conservation Program and the Conservation Reserve.

Plan Now For Weed Control

A SURE WAY to have a good crop of weeds next year is to sow plenty of weed seed this fall. That's just what you do if you allow weeds to go to seed around your farm buildings.

Of course, some weeds are perennials and will come up again next year anyway, but the number of annuals can be reduced by destroying the plants early in the fall before the seed matures.

This is very important around gardens and plant-growing frames. Suggestions for killing the weeds this fall are cut the weeds, pile them, and burn them to kill as many of the seeds as possible. Another method of handling the weed situation, especially if the weeds are bad, is to move to a new plant growing area.

Or use one of the many chemical weed killers. But they must be used with care, particularly if any vegetables, flowers, shrubbery, or other susceptible plants are growing nearby.

OAS Tougher On Trujillo Than Pro - Red Castro

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

THE Organization of American States acted much tougher to ward rightist dictator Rafael Trujillo than against pro-Communist dictator Fidel Castro.

In the case of Trujillo, where the United States was not a prime mover, the OAS intervened to cut off both his diplomatic and economic water by breaking relations and applying sanctions according to the ability of the individual country.

In the case of Castro, where

Governor Listed As 'Tak-Kee-Ah'

By FRED R. WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—As dictated by the spirits of the ancient Susquehannock Indian Nation, Gov. Lawrence became "Tak-Kee-Ah, the Big Eagle who looks upon many villages and people" Monday.

Princess Fleet Deer and Sacred Eagle, Lightfoot Talking Eagle slipped the tribal headress on the governor at a ceremony in his reception room.

"It's all right, just as long as there are no tomahawks inside," commented the governor as he ducked his head to receive his symbol as an honorary chief.

Then he raised his hand to mouth in the time-honored Indian signal and mimed a war whoop for photographers.

Old Nation

The Susquehannock are an old nation whose ancestors were settled in a good part of the Mid-Atlantic states, including Pennsylvania, long before the first white men set foot in this hemisphere.

Today, Lightfoot Talking Eagle told reporters sadly, there are less than a score of survivors, the rest having "taken the long path to the Land of the Sun."

Some, he added, are even living like palefaces, "with television and high-heeled shoes."

Consequently, Lightfoot Talking Eagle had to muster a few adults and boys from Boy Scout Troop 77 in Tanamoca to make a representation at the ceremony. The delegation wore tribal clothes.

Lightfoot Talking Eagle, whose "paleface" name is Ted Applegate, is manager of the Tanamoca Chamber of Commerce.

The princess is his wife, chosen, he revealed, by elder leaders of the Susquehannock in 1931. The Indians believe that "gray hairs" make the wisest decisions.

4th Honorary Chief
Lawrence is the fourth honorary chief of the Susquehannocks.

Talking Eagle, who as a sacred eagle is spiritual leader of the surviving Susquehannocks (they have no chiefs), said the honor is bestowed upon those who have done something to further the cause of the American Indian.

Lawrence won his headfeathers for proclaiming Sept. 24 "American Indian Day" in Pennsylvania. "We held an ancient religious rite and the spirits told us to make him an honorary chief," disclosed Talking Eagle, who still follows the Indian religion.

Ike Against Brother In Court Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower — lining up against his elder brother Edgar in a fight that split the legal profession — condemned Monday a clause allowing the United States to veto World Court action in certain disputes affecting this nation.

Speaking before the American Bar Assn., Eisenhower acknowledged smilingly that he was intervening in "your own family quarrel."

But he said somewhat ruefully that he had not yet "fully convinced even every member of my own family."

This drew an appreciative roar from some 2,000 lawyers who were aware that brother Edgar, a 71-year-old Tacoma, Wash., attorney, is a member of a bar association faction which supports the U.S. veto power.

At Issue
At issue is the 15-year-old Connally Reservation sponsored by former Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) when the United States accepted limited World Court jurisdiction in some international disputes.

This is not the first time Eisenhower has opposed the Connally Reservation, which permits the United States to decide whether a case involves domestic issues and thus rule it as outside the World Court's authority.

The President appealed to the bar association, opening its 83rd meeting, to stand by its 1947 demand for repeal of the Connally Reservation. Without mentioning it by name, he said the reservation stands in the way of achieving international rule of law.
